Statement:

As my relationship with God deepens, I feel called to advocate for all to be invited to a table with equal value. Utilizing my gifts of leadership and coalition building, I've led others through significant changes and did so in a way that brought people together despite varying opinions. I am gifted with a vision for courageous transformation and collaborative discoveries of forward paths. I pay attention to details and have thoughtful communication. I foresee contributing my gifts and graces to work across the connection addressing the division of the UMC and bring God's healing to our churches and community.
